TYRONE STORMWATER NEWS UPDATE

SPRING 2020

BRAD KONWICK, ENVIRONMENTAL DEPARTMENT

When the COVID-19 pandemic started, it was interesting to see that toilet paper was one of the first things to disappear from shelves, and there is still a limited supply. Since we typically use toilet paper every day, there might be a need to use something else during this time. This article mentions what can be disposed of in the toilet, with the goal of protecting your septic and sewer systems from costly repairs.
